It's over forty years since The Jam inspired a new generation with their All Mod Cons album - released in the dying months of 1978. It was a movement that had been growing organically for than a year and was a fitting answer to the increasingly grim post punk scene with hits such as: 'David Watts' 'The Modern World' 'Down in the Tube Station at Midnight' 'Eton Rifles' 'That's Entertainment' 'Going Underground' 79 The Mod Revival Time for Action: Essays from the Frontline (79 Revival series).

: But the Mod revival was far than just a one band phenomenon inspired by the arrival of the film version of The Who's Quadrophenia: A succession of groups including The Purple Hearts The Jolt The Chords and Secret Affair amongst many others added to Weller's powerful songs with great tunes
